THE LOCK PRESENTS CLOSING NIGHT:

1963 Lockport Township High School Lockport, Illinois –

 $A \ Curtain$ $Rises \dots$

... the lights dim — and the performance is about to begin. But this is no ordinary Saturday evening show; it is the closing night. Tomorrow will bring a new play — new sets, new faces, new lines, a new way of life. The very spirit of the building will take on a different aspect. Tonight the audience seems to feel the approaching end, and the air is heavy with reminiscence.

Thus it is with us this year. In June an era will end and be no more. There will never again be a Lockport Township High School. Yes, the building will remain, but the school will be changed indeed. Now we too are looking back as we see this last performance of our play.

It has had a long run — it opened more than 50 years ago, and has become more popular each succeeding year. Countless casts have come and gone. For some, this play has been but a steppingstone on the way to greater glory. For others it has been the peak of their fame. For all it has been at least a memorable experience. Some of these actors have left deep marks: some merely carved in the desks, others in the history of the school. All have added something to what it has become.

The play itself has a varied plot. It is comedy and tragedy — laughter and tears. It is learning and growing, listening and talking, trouble and fun, good times and sad. It has all the ingredients of every play ever written, but it is unique to Lockport.

All is quiet now, the stage is set. Good. On with the show!

To the Lockport Township High School

"Music Man" Marching Band

Unmistakable champions, your musicians have brought much pleasure to all who have been fortunate enough to hear and see them. As I have done many times before, I am proud to again applaud them for having achieved through their hard work a standard of excellence unsurpassed in their field.

Arthur Godfrey

I will never forget the boys and girls of Lockport's Music Man Marching Band swinging down Mason City's main street in their smart distinctive uniforms (Bless you for those skirts, girls) with the determination-look of champions or else! And I can still hear Arthur Godfrey's voice ringing in my ears, "The first place winner is Lockport, Illinois!" Congratulations on the immortality you have won for your school and your hometown.

Meredith Willson

The dedication of a book is often bestowed on great men, but rarely on a great organization. We would like to take exception to this general rule, for we have found an organization entirely worthy of that honor. The 1963 LOCK is dedicated to the Lockport Township High School "Music Man" Marching Band. Their praise, however, shall not come from us, but from people who are better judges than we. The praises of these men, important in the entertainment world, must be more appreciated than our own untutored plaudits. Our congratulations to the band for a fine record will suffice.

All my best wishes to each and every member of the National Championship "Music Man" Marching Band. During the many years that I have been working for Warner Bros. I have had many wonderful assignments, but I can honestly say that none was more enjoyable than working with the Lockport Township High School Band. I'm proud of all of you for the brilliant musical organization that you are, but I'm even more proud of you for being the greatest group of teen-agers that I have ever had the privilege of knowing. Good luck to every one of you in all your future undertakings.

Felix Greenfield

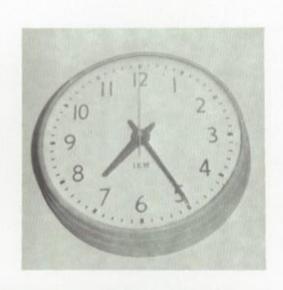

I am happy to hear that you are going to dedicate your 1963 year-book to the National Championship Music Man Marching Band — a truly great band! It is very inspiring to see young people participating in such fine work — it shows what initiative they have. It was indeed a pleasure to have this wonderful band on "American Bandstand." My sincere best wishes to all of you.

PERSONNEL

Behind any production there is a staff of untiring workers who are responsible for keeping things moving. The personnel employed by Lockport to run this school have many varying jobs. Each is individually essential to the proper functioning of this institution. Each is to be praised for the very satisfactory results they have achieved. Intent and duly cautious, they make the decisions which will affect all our lives.

"What's your first name, Meridith?"
Felix Borio, vice-president, and Ernest Swenson, president.

Leading the Cast of Thousands

"I had a little trouble balancing the books last night."

Barney Welter, William Babich, Willard Anderson, Harold Finley, and Carroll Ward compose the Board of Education.

"Did you say my new office is in the boiler room?"

Doctor Blatnik, superintendent, and Mr. Smith, assistant superintendent.

Supervising all that composed the 1962-63 school year, the able producers created a picture that will long be remembered by those who saw it.

The Board of Education selects the directors and other necessary persons who will best help us to prepare ourselves for the uncertain years ahead. Working with the community, these industrious men staged the finale for Lockport Township High School as one school.

The administration works within our high school building. Each day they participate in school activities which enable them to give us direct guidance.

As the curtain rises for the conclusion of our play, we realize that it was made possible only by the combined cooperation of the administration, students, and members of the community. Next year the plans for "shooting" the year's picture will be very challenging.

"No, we don't have a course in basketweaving."
Mr. Williams keeps busy with the curriculum.

"Ggggggrrrrrrrr"
With a smile Mr. Flink greets each new problem of the school and its students.

A Type — ical Team

Behind the scenes of every production is found an efficient crew of workers. The office staff at Lockport High School is this vital group which helps to keep our "stage production" running smoothly. They are always willing to assist us, adding many conveniences to our school.

"$10 this month — $20 last month, they'll never catch me!" A big smile and a sunny disposition are Mrs. Geddes formula for making her job pleasant.

"Mrs. Ayers,
who did you say put that sign up?"
Mrs. Ayers is secretary for the Board of Education.

"No, we don't have charge accounts!" Mrs. Meader is the school's capable bookstore manager.

"Yes, it is true. Blondes really do have more fun." Mrs. Sample is scretary for Dr. Blatnik and Mr. Smith.

BACK: Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Swanson, Mrs. Woock, Mrs. Skeldon, Mrs. Kurth, Mrs. Edson. FRONT: Mrs. Rodriquez, Mrs. Olson, Mrs. Holland, Mrs. Adamson.

John Finco, Clarence Johnson, Clarence O'Brien, Joe Brennan, Richard Longhini.

Bertha Longhini, Charles Herman, Frank Vargo, Milton Allison, William Vershay, Charles Sandeen, Kenneth Strong.

Stage Crew

Among our active personnel are the busy cafeteria workers who provide us with nutritional lunches daily and have even found time for a cookie break for the freshmen. The maintenance crew keep the building warm in sub-zero weather and clean the halls after 2000 students have tramped through them. Our stage crew works behind the scenes of every Lockport High School production.

SENIORS

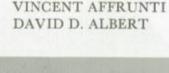

Leading the cast of students at LTHS are the seniors. They, like retiring actors, are making their final appearances in this grand old drama of high school. They are leaving this stage — taking with them countless memories — all of them just a little saddened by the closing curtain. Gay and carefree, they take a final fling before stepping into the world of adulthood and independence.

"We're playing Roy and Grenelda — Boo!"

Senior Snaps

This is what Patricia Stevens can do for you.

Well, his mother loves him.

Tootsie Roll for English, sucker for math, jelly beans for gym . . .

"Bye Kathy. Three's a crowd!"

Great big globs of greasy grimy gopher guts.

The Sputsie-Man strikes again!

Leaders of today — bums of tomorrow.

Now repeat after me. "I don't like Joe."

"I'll bet on Cabbage. He'll win by a head."

"Under Hedda's Hat"

We deal in ready-made halos.

"Let go of my spaghetti!"

A Talent Show reject.

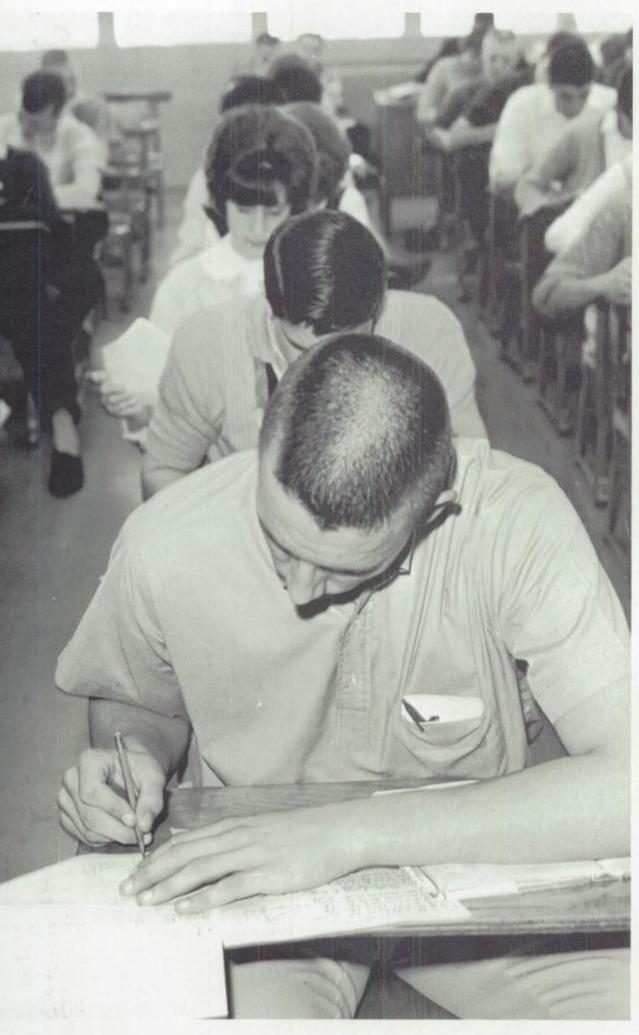

"When he backs up, reach in and grab him!"

"So who did you expect - Rock Hudson?"

See Alex sweat.

CLASSES

The silence is overpowering — the audience rapt. At last the stillness is broken by the closing of a book — then another, and another. Feet shuffle, chairs squeak, papers rustle. Suddenly a bell rings — long and loud. The room is instantly alive as every student heads for the door at once. So it goes each day as the students of LTHS make their way through a maze of class schedules and crowded halls — moving forward every step of the way.

"Not yet, Marianne, it's not loaded."

The Junior Class officers, Marianne Rossetto, vice-president, Rich McCain, treasurer, Steve Etter, president, and Jeanne Anderson, secretary, are usually on the other side of the spotlight.

ACTIVITIES

Homecoming, plays, dances — plain and fancy — and finally Prom, the moments that memories are made of. These few hours of extra-curricular activities, hours of sharing entertainment and relaxation with fellow-students, bring the whole picture of school life into focus. The gym, transformed by crepe paper and soft lights, or sawdust on the floor; the auditorium, filled with waiting audiences — the school puts on a party air and seems to glow with excitement. At times like these, the mundane studies of Monday morning are forgotten and Pleasure reigns supreme. Comedy, romance — the lighter side of our play — these are what we will remember in the years to come.

Queen Melanie

Reverberating to the primitive cries of the prize winning Juniors, the Homecoming Parade ushered in one of 1962's most memorable events. After the parade the students found themselves swept into the contagious atmosphere of school spirit generated by the cheerleaders at the pep assembly.

This enthusiastic attitude was maintained by the team and spectators throughout the game. The half-time activities, organized by the "L" Club, were highlighted by the presentation of roses to Queen Melanie and her court. Lockport's marching band, preceded by some of the outstanding homecoming floats, added to the success of the half-time activities.

Reigning over the festivities in all royal splendor were King Pete Fulton and Queen Melanie Berta. The traditional homecoming dance served as a fitting climax to this occasion.

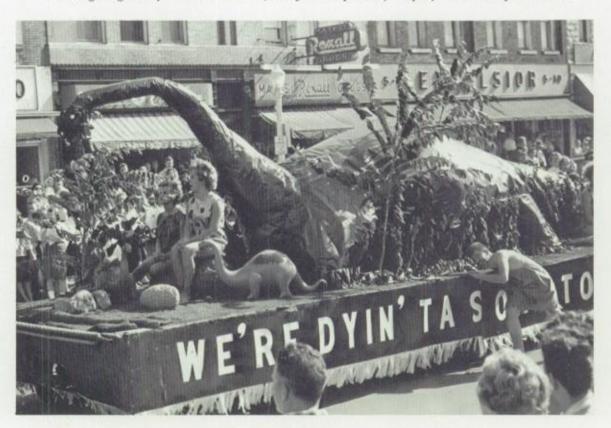

"Oh, I've got

The Sophomore float — second place.

"I hope they're Volkswagens."

The expectation and loyalty of every Porter fan are expressed by the Jr. Medical Club's — "We're expecting 2-wins."

"One Foot in Heaven"

"You're lucky to get that much!"
Linda Jaggers and Bonnie Fleming present gift certificates to student director Karen Firman, as cast members show their enthusiasm.

"How to Win Friends and Influence People," page 103, paragraph 5 ... Cast members go over their lines during a free moment. The Junior class of Lockport Township High School proudly presented their play, "One Foot in Heaven," a three act comedy, on the evenings of November 15 and 16.

The scene opened on a secluded little town in Iowa, 1910. Reverend and Mrs. Spence and their children, Hartzell and Eileen were new residents of Laketon. Reverend Spence had just been appointed minister of the domineering congregation. On arrival to their new home, the old, dilapidated parsonage was truly a sight to behold.

The members of the family went on to relate their pleasures and their hardships, the wonderful surprises, and the discouraging disappointments, which led to many hilarious situations.

Those who participated in the play will cherish many memories from the experience and enjoyment.

"But you can't die on my brand new couch!"

"Oh, Henry!" exclaims Peggy Ennis, as Karen Vernon displays a devilish sense of humor.

On March 21 and 22, the LTHS auditorium was filled by an impatient audience, anxiously awaiting the rise of the curtain. "Three Blind Mice" was presented by the Senior class.

The "Three Blind Mice," sisters from a poor chicken farm in Connecticut, pooled their life-savings and took a trip to Florida to catch wealthy husbands. One pretended to be a poor little rich girl, accompanied by a secretary and a maid. When Pam, the eldest, was approached with an offer of marriage by a wealthy young man, the truth was uncovered, and the sisters were ashamed of their childish antics.

Although their plan fell through, the results of their scheming were not in vain. Pam, Elizabeth, and Moira each became the wife of the man whom she truly loved.

"You're my new problem, Pam," says Jim Maloy to Carolyn Schmitz.

"I'm an old cowhand, ..."

Carol Djerf and Carolyn Schmitz give disapproving glances to fellow cast member, Frank Treseder.

"You mean there will be people out there?"

Mr. Tipler instructs the cast in proper speech and action, as Leona Gudac looks on.

"For relief of headache pain, upset stomach, that dizzy feeling . . ."

After the Game . . .

The music pouring from the gymnasium sets the mood for the LOCK Staff Dances after each home game. These casual dances promote school spirit and unity as well as provide fun for all. A finishing touch for a game night, the dances relieve tensions after a victorious evening.

Christmas Fantasy

The evening of December 26 was filled with enchantment as many couples found themselves in a "Christmas Fantasy." The dreamy music of the Don Adam's Orchestra lent itself well to the peaceful atmosphere of the Christmas season.

This holiday dance, which was presented by the band, created a highlight for this festive time of year. As the girls and their escorts gathered around to watch, the long-awaited moment finally arrived when King David Albert and Queen Carolyn Schmitz were crowned. The royal couple then led the traditional grand march.

It is certain that all who attended will cherish fond memories of this "Christmas Fantasy."

"Shut up in the balcony so I can talk!"

"There's no business like show business," was the refrain of the talented students that participated in Lockport Highlighters. The National Honor Society initiated this talent show as their annual project to encourage students to use their talents in service for their school. The spotlight focused on acts ranging from modern dance routines and jazz bands to humorous dialogues. The performances were reviewed by a spirited audience that was surprised by Lockport's variety of fine talent. It is said that the back stage crew is just as important as the performers. Certainly in this case it was no exception. Mrs. Mitzit, National Honor Society sponsor, and members of National Honor Society gave of their time and service to make Lockport Highlighters a success.

"Green Gold"

Amid bright lights and the lilting tunes of the overture, curious spectators flocked to witness a world premiere on the L.T.H.S. stage. "Green Gold," a musical comedy written by two talented members of our faculty, Mr. Eugene Ennis and Mr. Donald Mients, was the product of the combined efforts of many students and faculty members. The choreographer, Miss Mary Ann Lucas, originated dances for leprechauns and peasants; Carol Nordstrom provided piano accompaniment for love songs and drinking songs alike. Brilliant costuming and make-up combined with colorful scenery ranging from the lush, green woods of old Eire to a glowing, golden leprechaun cave to create a festive mood, one well suited to our very successful musical, "Green Gold."

Between dances Karen Vernon, A. L. Lawrence, Rick Ogren, Jane Harris, Cheryl Matlock, and Bob Kryzak visit the Pink Champagne "bar."

"Oh darling, what soft shoulder pads you have!"
It seems to have been a perfect evening for everyone.

The evening of February sixteenth brought a wistful smile to the faces of those who attended the 1963 spring dance. The cafeteria was a wonderland of bubbles and pink champagne.

The drifting melodies of the Banas Brothers' orchestra created an atmosphere of enchantment. Between dances the couples visited the Pink Champagne "bar."

A hush filled the room as the big moment approached. Who would be the royal couple? The question was answered in a very pleasant way with the crowning of Rick Ogren and Leona Gudac as king and queen.

All good things must come to an end, but through the Student Council's hard work, Pink Champagne became a dance to remember and cherish.

"I've been gyped; this isn't champagne!"
Among the many couples who enjoyed refreshments were Dave Thomann and Leona Gudac, Dale Marocco and Penny Morse.

On the evening of May fourth, the gateways to a fantasy were opened to the bewitching atmosphere of the annual Junior-Senior Prom. Unconscious of the world outside, many dreamy-eyed couples danced to the melodies of Mike Golden and his orchestra. Carol Djerf and Chuck Ballantine, reigning over this realm of enchantment, were seated on authentic castle thrones and wore replicas of medieval crowns.

The theme, "Kingdom of Dreams," was romantically carried through with murals of beautiful nighttime scenes and castle wall. Painted shields, huge white pillars, and a courtyard fountain all helped to create a vivid picture of the Medieval times. A starlit terrace, set apart from the rest of the dance floor, added charm and pleasure to this heavenly kingdom. At the stroke of midnight the splendor ended, leaving everyone in a sentimental mood and deep in a cloud of memory.

Play Gentlemen

D'Amico's elaborate Chantilly Room again provided the romantic setting for the L Club's Annual Dinner-Dance. After an enjoyable buffet, the students and faculty danced to the music of Gene Victor's orchestra.

The elegantly decorated balcony and equally enchanting wishing well provided relaxation for the couples. While the girls demonstrated their pitching ability by tossing pennies into the well, the boys seemed to be wishing for their date's outstanding skill. This event has truly become a popular attribute of the social activities of Lockport High School.

What's up Doc? Jim Mau, Judy Major, Doc Spink, and Rosemary McGinnis enjoy the atmosphere at D'-Amico's 214.

SPORTS

The cheering swells, pouring out of the stuffy gym into the night. With one accord the crowd rises to its feet and yells. No audience can match it for enthusiasm. The fans who brave the worst of weather to see the team in action carry with them the school spirit that has helped our teams to many of their victories. Be it football, basketball, or any other sport, there is always a Lockport crowd on hand, making more noise than any other.

On Stage

Again in 1962-63, Lockport's Porters were led by an enthusiastic cheerleading octet. This year six upperclassmen and two sophomores were chosen to keep the Porter banner flying high. Under the experienced leadership of Carol Djerf and Cathy Pike, co-captains, and Mrs. Thompson, sponsor, the girls introduced a medley of unique cheers which were quickly accepted by the student body. The girls devoted many hours to practice and were rewarded by the admiration of all before whom they performed. They kept everyone's spirits soaring and shared in the teams' many victories throughout the football and basketball seasons. On stage and off, Lockport salutes her athletic actresses.

"Hail, Zimmer!"
"One more touchdown!" yell the crowd and cheerleaders.

"Anacin for headaches???"

Fans go wild as Lockport crashes through with another win.

Gridiron Gladiators

"Three blind mice! See how they run!"
Co-captains Andy Dystrup (35), Jim Phillips (66), and Myron Fulton (19) led and helped their teammates post a respectable 4—4—1 record.

What happens when an irresistible force meets an immovable object? Carl Sandburg found out in their only loss of the season as their highly touted defense crumbled against the Porter onslaught to the tune of 21—9 during Lockport's first game of the season. The victorious Lockport squad, led by team captains Fulton, Dystrup, and Phillips, then dropped a close one to Joliet Catholic on the Hilltoppers' turf. No points were scored in the next game when Bloom found Lockport's defense equal to its own. The Porters next went on to overpower Argo during Lockport's first home game of the season. Despite some brilliant teamwork sparked by Pete Fulton's mighty right arm, the Porters were beaten back in their Homecoming game by an aggressive Kankakee squad. Unbowed, Lockport came back with a vengeance as the Porter Hustlers plowed through the Cardinal lines to whitewash the Blue Island team in what amounted to a "patriotically" colorful game. Beaten by the conference champion Steelmen of Joliet, Lockport bobbed up and shattered any dreams of victory that Thornton might have had. Thornridge, true to its name, stuck the Porters in the final game of the season to make Lockport's record four wins, four losses, and one tie.

Oh, come on, Dick! Cross the line and fight like a man. In reality this is hardrunning Dick Stauss, a superb halfback, who gained many yards for the Porters during the '62 campaign.

Gain Ground

"Truly outstanding" is the phrase best applied to Lockport's star linebacker Bob Keeffer. Keeffer, voted "Most Valuable Player," was a stupendous defensive man and a real boon to the Porter's team spirit.

"You say
you want to go
tip-toeing

Lockport's tremendous
"All-State" quarterback
Pete Fulton often accepted advice from Coach Zimmer.

"Wait a minute, Buddy! I just lost my wooden leg."

All-Stater Pete Fulton executes a dazzling quarterback sneak.

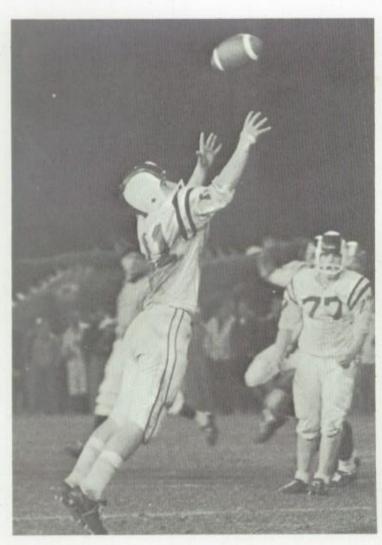

I dreamed I tackled a halfback in my "Maidenform" shoulder pads. Bobby Clark (60) brings down an interloper in Lockport's territory.

"The Plebeians, however starved of Mind or Body, will make no Revolt if permitted to indulge weekly in Gladiatorial Displays."

What a place to find an Easter egg!

Jerry Anderson, star junior fullback, hauls in a bullet-like Fulton aerial.

Football is truly an art. An outstanding player must have the grace and poise of a ballerina, the mind of a Ph.D. recipient, the strength of a bull, the heart of a lion, and a true love for football. There are few really outstanding players.

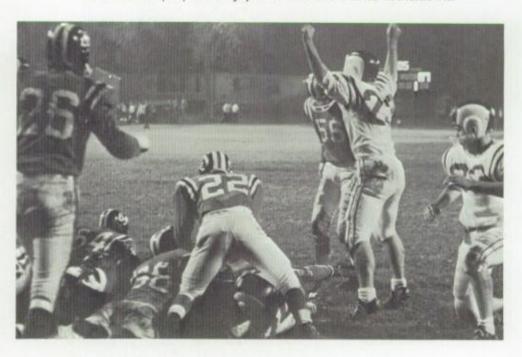

Because football is a dangerous game, the player puts his health and even his life in jeopardy in each game. Every time they take the field, our Porter eleven risk the possibilities of permanent or temporary injury. Many athletes have been seriously injured for life by this game. Their love for football makes each Porter seem to be something of an outstanding player.

"Get off the field, Stauss!

Sophs Capture Conference Laurels

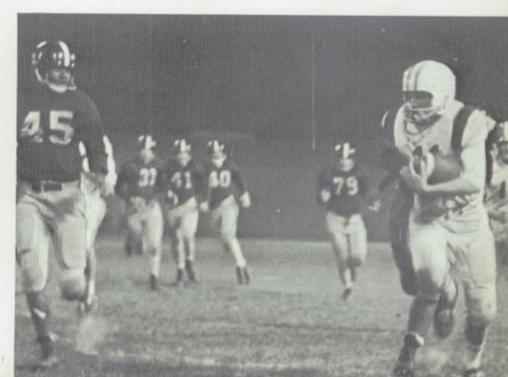

Benchwarmers finally revolt.

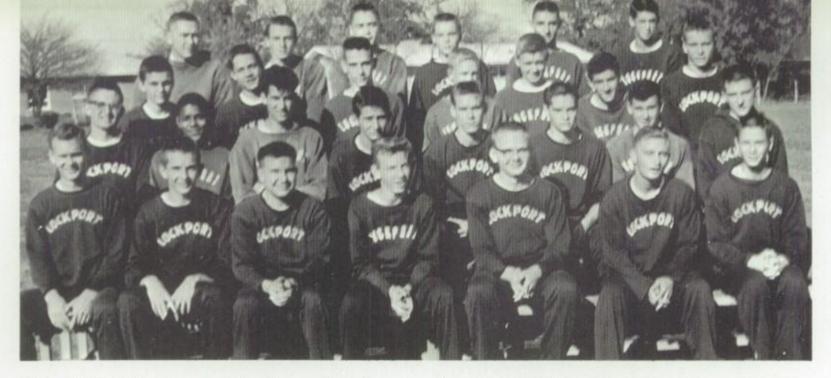

Sophomores rejoice over the Thornridge victory which gave them an 8—1 record, good enough to tie for first place in the SSL.

From the moment the Portermites took the field and tromped Carl Sandburg 27—6, Coach Seitzberg and Coach Jackson knew they had a winning team. To prove their coaches were correct, the sophs rolled up an 8—1 season record and tied for first place with Joliet in the South Suburban League. The Portermite offensive team piled up 94 points during their nine games while the defensive squad held all opposition to only 25 markers. The defensive unit was never scored on in conference play. The team's only loss of the season came at the hands of Blue Island by a score of 6—13.

More Miles Per Gallon

Soup's On!

As the timer's gun cracks through the air, the Porters leap from the starting line during one of their daily work-outs.

Coming Mother!

Leading the way to another victory, John Peterson heads into the stretch.

With picturesque Dellwood Park again serving as the testing area, Lockport launched its fourth season of cross-country. The Porters, under the direction of Coach Bill Connors, posted a season record of three wins, eight losses, and one tie.

The multi-milers posted their three victories over Reavis, Argo, and a rough Thornton outfit. One of the team's most impressive showings of the campaign was their third place finish in the Tinley Park Invitational. The harriers also finished a respectable ninth in the district held at Rich Central and seventh in the rugged South Suburban League Conference held at Kankakee.

The Portermites found things a little tougher, however, as they managed to win only two of their twelve meets. Throughout the whole season, the harriers showed their true Lockport spirit as they sacrificed both their time and energy for the team and the school.

Rich McCain, Jim Mau, Rich Powers, John Peterson, Bob Svoboda, and Dennis Legan represented Lockport at the district meet held at Rich East where the Porters finished ninth.

"Now exhale"

Coach Beseman congratulates the 200 yard relay team, Jerry Pekar, Jim Rossetto, Jim Peterson, and Roy Fleet, on their record breaking time.

The Porter tankmen, despite facing such adversities as a small pool and no diving facilities, had a fairly successful season. Confronted with formidable opposition, Mr. Beseman's strokers posted a 3 win, 10 lost record. The poolsters were one of the best all around swimming teams ever produced at Lockport as was evidenced by the fact that eight varsity records were toppled. Individual stars were senior Jim Peterson, record breaker in the 50 yard free style and the 160 yard individual medley; senior Jim Landon, 100 yard butterfly record breaker and junior Bob Lacy, 100 yard backstroke record breaker. Porter teamwork was evident as all four varsity relay teams broke former times.

The prospects for next year look promising as 7 varsity lettermen are returning. Additional talent will be acquired from the many eager sophomores who this year swam on the frosh-soph team, which registered a fine 6—6 record.

Grapplers Grope

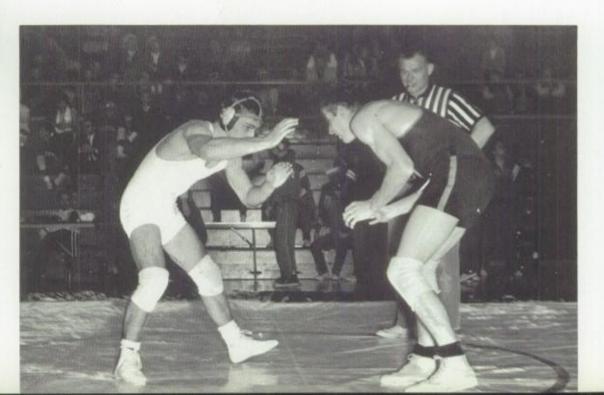

Because of their weakness in a few weight categories, the Lockport wrestling squad managed to post a season record of only 1 win and 10 losses. Six team points or less, however, spelled the difference in four of their ten defeats. The Grapplers' lone victory came over Kankakee in a tough match. The matmen placed seventh in the South Suburban League and an outstanding second in the district tournament at Lockport.

Boasting the team's most outstanding record of 20—4 was captain John Rowley. John placed first in the Pekin Quadrangular, a second in the conference, a first in the district and sectional, and the right to represent Lockport at state.

"Why doesn't he try a double twist, reverse figure eight, spine bending, turkey bar." Coach Zimmer is always willing to help out his boys in any way he can.

"Let's twist again like we did last night." Gary Brainard moves in for another one of his take downs.

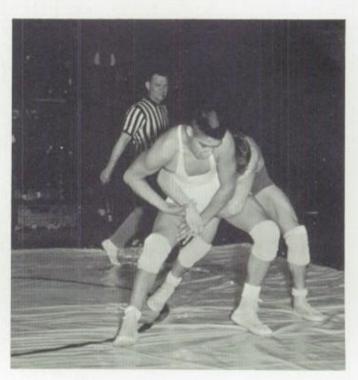

"Jim, will you please take your hand down and quit tickling him." Giving each other a few pointers just before the district meet are John Rowley, Cleothis Lincoln, and Jim Townsend.

Based on their sophomore record, the prospects for the future look very good for the Porter matmen. Under the direction of Coach Mel Deskin, the Portermites posted one of the best records in years, as they won 8 meets and lost only 3. The Portermites also finished a very respectable second place in the South Suburban League. Second place awards were given to Jim Yunker, Rich Householder, Tom Zander, Sam Easily, Stacy Miller, Dwayne London, and Rich Sluski, with Roger Anzzolin placing third.

"Hey! Leave those fingers alone."

Jesse Gutierrez wisely maneuvers for position in an attempt to defeat his opponent.

Jerry Anderson's ball handling ability provided the spark to keep the Porter victory fires alive.

Defensive expert Carl Ballantine contributed his ball-handling skill to the Porter cause while managing to score well in each game.

Pete Fulton's natural ability and hustle won many awards for him and his team. Pete is one of the finest athletes in the history of LTHS.

Basketeers Take Their Bows

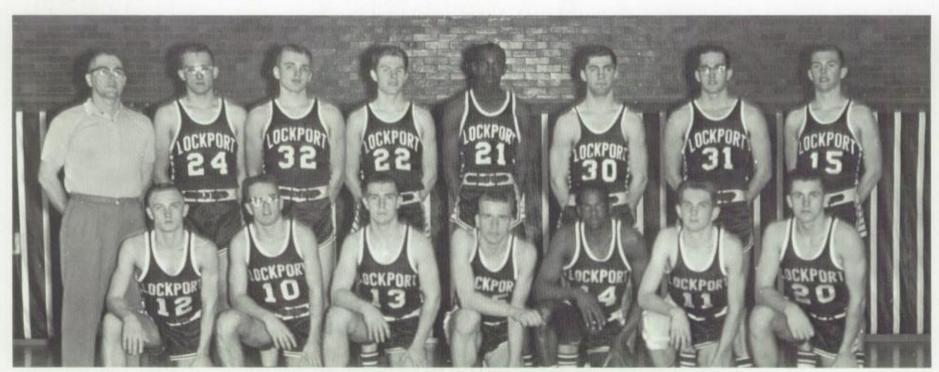

One of the finest teams ever to play at LTHS, the '62-'63 varsity cagers compiled a very impressive 21—6 record. The Porters started the season by winning their own tournament, the Lockport Invitational. In December the Porters traveled to the Pontiac Holiday Tourney where they were the under-dog winners. At Pontiac the Porters beat four state ranked teams, Granite City, Peoria Richwoods, Bloom, and Rock Island Allemen. The Porters themselves were at one time ranked fifth in the state.

In regular South Suburban League action the hoopsters gained a 10—4 record, good enough for second place behind Bloom. In regional play the Porter's took second losing to Bloom of Chicago Heights in the finale.

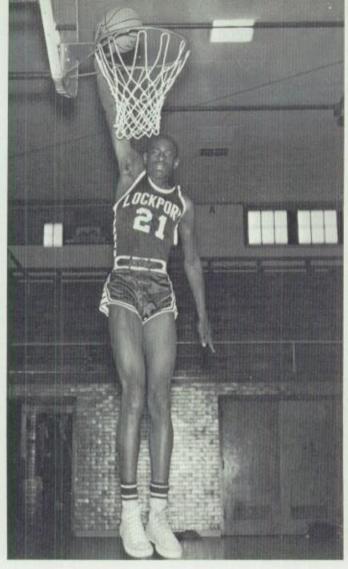

Three Porters, Myron (Pete) Fulton, Bob Gatson, and Bill Ford made all conference and all area squads. Fulton and Gatson received special mention.

Bob Gatson inspite of his size 6'0" was the second best rebounder for the Porters and second in scoring.

Freshman Bill Ford led the Porters in rebounding and was third in scoring.

Soph Mike Murawski's calm disposition made him a very valuable sixth man to the varsity squad.

The sophomore basketball squad finished a successful season with a record of 15—5. Two of the more formidable foes, who fell before the Portermites, were Crane Tech and Joliet Township. The Portermites showed real team spirit and determination by coming back to beat Bloom at Lockport (39—37) after a narrow defeat on the Trojans' home court (36—40). The sophs ended the season in second place in the South Suburban League. At the Wheaton Sophomore Tournament the Portermites crushed Glenbard West (48—40) but the next night were edged by Glenbard East (55—57). In the previous year the sophs won the Wheaton Invitational.

Trackmen

Because of a shortage of upperclassmen, Lockport's varsity track squad again finished their season on an unsuccessful note. The cindermen did, however, manage to win one dual meet over Argo, and two triangular meets. Although placing eighth in the South Suburban League, the highlight of the season was their second place finish in the Will County District Meet. John Peterson's time of 4:37.5 in the mile run was one of the many varsity records set this year. Bill Ford also distinguished himself by breaking the high jump record with his jump of 6½ feet.

Hitting and Pitching

Team captain Chuck Ballantine's excellent form on the mound led the way for a 12—1 record and selection to the all-conference squad.

Led by strong pitching and hitting, the varsity baseball team posted a brilliant 15—3 record that included the 6th consecutive district, 3rd regional, and first sectional title in the history of LTHS baseball.

Led by right-hander Chuck Ballantine, the pitching staff held their opponents hitless for 23½ innings. These games included a no-hitter by Ray Ryan and a perfect game by Mike Murawski back to back in district play and innumerable no-hitters by Ballantine. The power to back up the pitching was supplied by Lockport's answer to the New York Yankees, Pete Fulton, Mike Murawski, and Andy Dystrup.

Amid the praises given to the squad, the one that sums up the reason for the success comes from Coach William Kappmeyer," Probably one of the best ball teams to come out of Lockport High School. Their determination, desire, will to learn made them a well organized club."

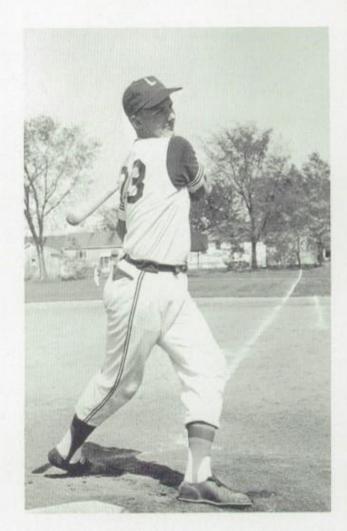

Pete Fulton's combination of good hitting and defense at first base earned him a spot on the all-conference team.

All-State tournament choice Andy Dystrup guards second base.

Lockport's Linksters made school history as they became the first Lockport team to reach the state finals. Downstate they finished a respectable tenth. They accomplished this feat by winning the district held at rugged Big Run with a four man total of 326.

Coach Ed Hill's golfers were also successful in regular season matches posting a won-loss record of thirteen wins, one loss, and one tie, the best record ever for the golf squad. They were undefeated in conference matches and in the conference tournament the golfers walked off with everything but the tee markers. The link-sters captured the team championship with a four man total of 325 and also three of the first five individual positions.

The key to the golf squad's success this year was their tremendous depth. The varsity consisted of four juniors and four seniors, and all were capable of capturing medalist honors. Next year the golf squad will have great potential as, in addition to the four returning lettermen, the sophomore squad this year looked very promising.

Tennis Tumbles

To coach Robert Hess's regret, in spring a young man's thoughts turn to something other than tennis. Accordingly, the varsity fell 0—12, a record the frosh-soph matched perfectly. The main burden fell on the four seniors, a fact which may hinder future squads. In spite of this the underclassmen who did play varsity have gained valuable experience.

ORGANIZATIONS

Moving backstage, forever active and industrious, are the many clubs and organizations. They provide a means of expression of every type of talent or interest, ranging from drama and music to farming. Many provide a dress rehearsal for the very roles these students will be playing after they have graduated. Others give them a chance to play a part in the government of the school. Still others offer an interesting and creative form of relaxation. All of them create a meaningful interlude in the monotony of classes.

Round the clock the year round, the Student Council stands ready to assist the student body. Pre-school freshman orientation, co-ordination of Homecoming activities, and the annual turnabout week occupied the council members' time during the fall. At Christmas Santa Claus received a helping hand as the council distributed Christmas cards. Rounding out the list of special activities was the spring semi-formal dance, "Pink Champagne."

Serving all throughout the year, the council handled the concessions at home games and operated the lost and found. Even more important, it acted as a sounding board for student suggestions and complaints.

Over the Editor's Shoulder

"All right you guys, who turned off the lights?"

Lock editors Jane Harris and Claire Beavon take five after a busy day's work.

"Go West young man," says Horace Greeley.

No, this really isn't Horace Greely. It's Mrs. Capponi, this year's Lock sponsor who has an obsession about deadlines.

Over the editor's shoulder can be seen the making of a yearbook—the LOCK. Other than those who make up the two Lock staffs, few people realize the time and effort spent in the production of our school annual.

The business staff's time is occupied in the selling of subscriptions and the delivering of the books to the students. Other services rendered are the distribution of identification cards, the victory dances after home games, and the traditional Homecoming Dance.

The editorial staff members busy themselves in the actual production of the yearbook. Pictures must be taken; layouts planned; headlines, running heads, copy and captions composed. This year, the Lock staffs have a new sponsor, Mrs. Capponi, whose capable supervision keeps things running smoothly.

The "Music Man" Band

tional Music Convention in New York.

Upon their return to Lockport, the band kept up its fast pace and good work. It entertained overwhelming crowds on the Fourth of July, at the Music Festival in Chicago, at Moorehead, Minnesota, as well as the home crowds right here in Lockport. They gave enjoyment to many people with their annual Christmas Concert on the 16th of December and with their annual Spring Concert on March 3rd. In addition, they marched at every home football game.

The pep band played at all home basketball games and assemblies.

The band isn't all work and no play. The band members still seem to find time for relaxation and enjoyment and on December 26 they sponsored the annual Christmas Dance. January 12th saw their annual Band Banquet at which they were given a small reward for the hard-earned fame they have brought to the halls of LTHS.

The band pauses during their fast-paced tour of the East.

It was attitudes like that shown on the face of Lenny Horvat that won the championship.

Interested in joining one of the many choruses? There are many to choose among. Some of the major choruses are the A Cappella Choir, General Chorus and Freshman Girls' Chorus under the direction of Mr. Don Meints. Smaller groups are the Madrigals, and the junior and senior sextets.

The chorus adds an indefinable "extra" to the school's activities. The chorus sang at the Christmas concert. The premiere of the musical comedy, "Green Gold," product of the combined talents of Mr. Meints, choral director, and Mr. Eugene Ennis, English teacher at L.T.H.S., proved to be a great success.

This year, the chorus was very fortunate in having two student directors, Miss Barbara Krumpach, and Miss Mary Braun.

The sponsor and officers of the Future Teachers: Mrs. Kramer; Karen Firman; treasurer; Alice Sue Hacker, president; George Christian, vice-president; and Susan Kwarta, secretary.

During the past year the Future Teachers of America, under the helpful guidance of Mrs. Kramer, compiled a successful record of enlightenment and experience. The club's main purposes are to enable members to study the qualities and aptitudes basic to successful teaching, to acquire an understanding of the public school system, and to secure information on vocational opportunities in education.

The highlight of the '62-'63 academic year was the attendance of the FTA members at the regional workshop at Lincoln-Way High School. For pecuniary gain the future paper-graders worked with paper cups at the concession stands at home football and basketball games.

At their bi-monthly meetings, the Future Teachers were entertained by guest speakers and panel discussions, which provide valuable information on the teaching profession. Mrs. Kramer spent much time during the year helping the students progress towards their goal — a worthy profession, teaching.

The 1962-'63 school year saw the birth of a new school organization, the Junior Medical Club, which is combined from the older Future Nurses of America and the Junior Red Cross. The club's main project for the year was a sale of plastic book covers for our yearbooks. The group also entered a very clever walking unit in the Homecoming Parade.

Closely associated with the Junior Medical Club are the Health Room aides. If you have ever had a headache, a cut, or sinus congestion, you have probably been in the Health Room, where these future nurses and doctors dole out aspirin and Kleenex like professionals. With the help and guidance of their club sponsor, Mrs. Habenicht, the members gain experience for their future careers in the medical professions.

The table's turned.

GAA — Girls

Opening each year with a list of activities GAA offers organized recreation to all girls. With the leadership of the four girls' gym teachers, the girls receive many happy hours of enjoyment in GAA during the school year. To start off the year were volleyball, a basket-shooting contest, life saving, golf, and two sessions of bowling.

"Hey! It's got a funny spot on it."
Linda Reiter really enjoys volleyball, as you can tell by her smile.

"It's a super-dooper inside-out over-the-shoulder hit."

GAA volleyball offers members an opportunity to become more skilled at the game.

Our capable sponsors, Miss Lucas, Mrs. Firlus, Miss Olson, and Miss Chapman, devote much time to GAA activities.

On the Go

Every girl who has taken part in any activity of GAA knows the pleasure she gets out of participation. At the end of the year pins and letters are awarded to the girls. Even though some girls do not receive awards, their time was well spent in active play.

"I'll get that fly yet!"

Always moving to promote school spirit, the Letterman's Club set a new tradition, dress of the day. A letter sweater, white shirt, and tie was the appropriate dress each Friday for the lettermen as they strove to instill a sense of pride and interest in Porter athletics.

The '62-'63 club saw its membership grow to the largest number in the organization's history. More than 30 outstanding athletes met with the approval of the members and were initiated.

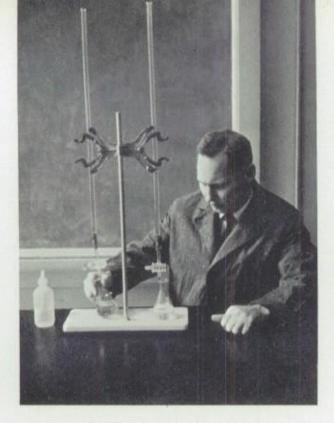

When they were not ushering at home games, the lettermen were handling the sale of the traditional Homecoming mums or sponsoring the interclass tournament. In March the athletes relaxed as they treated themselves and their dates to a night at D'Amico's at the L-Club's second annual dinner-dance.

The Science Club, whose main purpose is to provide educational and enjoyable opportunities in various fields of science, has programs of wide variety — from lectures on chemical warfare and biology to tours through the Argonne National Laboratory.

This organization was first formed last year by a group of students who expressed an interest in science. Since then it has grown and gained the sponsorship of Mr. Pryor.

We are proud to have this club on our list of extra-class activities and hope it stays there for a long time.

The F.B.L.A. donut sale was made a success through the combined efforts of Karen Leinen, Kay Stogis, Jolinda Karns and Jerry Simon.

Among the many clubs and organizations at Lockport High School is the Future Business Leaders of America. Students desiring to enter the business world upon graduation find this group especially fascinating.

The regular meeting of the F.B.L.A. consists of lectures by prominent leaders of the community, interesting movies on the different phases of business, and panel discussion groups. For their field trip this year, the Lockport Leaders along with Mrs. Manwaring, their sponsor, were informed of some aspects of the world of communication.

Success is the aftermath of hard work and hard work is to be had in any business. To be prepared for your future, F.B.L.A. is certainly the organization to join and support.

"B-b-b-boys!"

There's a new hit at Lockport this year — the Girls' Swim Club. Meeting every Wednesday from seven to nine, this club has become an organization worthy of mention. These water dolphins, numbering about forty girls, receive instruction in water ballet under the joint sponsorship of Mrs. Firlus and Miss Chapman.

Wet curls, or what were curls, is just one of the disadvantages that the girls must face when entering into the Swim Club. Though inconveniences do face the girls in their participation in water ballet, they have overcome these difficulties and can now say, "It's been a splashing success."

Farmers Focus on the Future

The Future Farmers of America is an organization composed of boys who are interested in agriculture. The members of Lockport's club have co-operated with their sponsor, Mr. Lawrence, to form a very active branch.

Among their money raising projects this year were a paper drive and a car wash. The members also supplied the students with a very dependable coat check. The group went to the International Livestock Show in Chicago, where they were presented with two first place and four second place awards.

The boys involved in Future Farmers have proved a great credit to our school and our community, and have gone far toward becoming skilled and informed farmers.

"We'll pull it off at 12:30."

Desperate for a projector, the club's officers, John Hallis, president; Dennis Carey, secretary; Bob Finley, treasurer; and Tony Walter, vice-president try to make do.

A special group — a special job. This is the Projectionists Club, a typical club at Lockport High working hard to get projectors, screens, and films in order for daily use. The projectionists are also in charge of operating the public address system for all football games, basketball games, assemblies, dances, teachers' meetings, graduation, and for other school activities.

The boys, assisted by Mr. Jorgenson, the club sponsor, are always ready, willing, and able to run projection equipment. Almost every student at Lockport has enjoyed having a pause in his day by seeing an interesting film, which could not have been shown if a member of the Projectionist Club had not been present. Filmstrips are used in almost every subject which makes the services rendered by these students a vital one. We all appreciate the fine jobs these boys do to get the rest of the students out of classes and we hope they keep up the good work.

Service with a Smile

The assistance of these students is completely essential to the management of the cafeteria and offices.

First volunteering their valuable services are these eager and co-operative students, the cafeteria aides. While serving the famished Porters, they add an extra zest to the lunches. Dependability and efficiency are what have won the office group a completely occupied schedule. With running errands, keeping the files in order, and typing letters, the office aides have found that they offered their help to a very worthy cause, assisting the counselors.

Studio Whispers

"Don't forget to shelve that head!" Library aides Linda Acuff and Pam Scriber put away books as Ron Blackwell looks on.

Webster defines an aide as "one who helps or assists in a function or project." Certainly this definition can be applied to the library aides at Lockport Township High School. These students relinquish one of their study halls to help check books in and out, honor library passes, file books, straighten shelves, and generally, doing any task to help alleviate the work of our librarians.

This year, as a break from the ordinary routine, the library staff sponsored a Book Fair on January third and fourth. The purpose of the fair was to raise money to buy more books for our present library and for the library in our new West Side High School.

Thousands of books of many categories were displayed on tables for all students to view and purchase according to their

Certainly without the help of these students, Miss Ward and Miss Munn, our librarians, could not run the library as efficiently as they do. These "assistant librarians" should surely be commended for their efforts.

"And don't forget, folks, 'Happy Snappies' can give YOU that peppy feeling at the start of every day."

Lockport's WJOL representatives, Peggy Ennis, Bill Hilsabeck, and Susan Holland, prepare themselves for another busy evening at the station.

"Honest, Mary, it was this long!"
Rena Grepares and Mary Snyder, winners of the Illinois District Speech Contest, practice body motions.

Although speech activities were not considered an official school organization this year, the participants were as active as ever. Mr. Olson, who is a new counselor at Lockport, was their sponsor.

On the agenda for this year was the Illinois State Oritorical contest, the American Legion Oritorical contest, and the WJOL radio show, "Crew Cut Capers." Every Wednesday night three Lockport students entertained listeners with the latest hits and the news of LTHS. With the completion of the year, the drama students learned many techniques of speech making and received much enjoyment from their activities.

HONORS

The curtain has fallen on the last act; the play is done. Nothing remains but the curtain calls and now they come, as the curtain is rung up again and again. The honored take their bows and retire as others take their places. Many have played their parts well and now we honor them with the plaudits they deserve. As the curtain rises for the final bows, those who have distinguished themselves step forward to the ringing of applause.

Under the direction of Mrs. Mitzit, sponsor, the James McKinnon Smith Chapter of the National Honor Society has in the past been a great benefit to both the school and the community. With the successful project of a school talent show, this year was no exception.

Although the show was the main project of the society, it was by no means its only activity. Aside from the monthly meetings, the impressive annual induction ceremony was held. Speeches were given about the keystone and torch and the history of National Honor Society as well as the four requirements of outstanding character, leadership, scholarship, and service. It is truly an honor for an individual to be inducted and very truly a challenge "to make its ideals the ideals of the school and of his life."

Curtain Calls

Peggy Ennis graciously accepts the DAR award, presented to her by Mr. Rutter.

Daniel Shepherd is presented with the DeKalb Agricultural award which he received for excellent achievement in the agricultural field. Students, during their years at Lockport Township High School, strive for many goals — those that are rewarding in the future. Here, at LTHS, they are given recognition for outstanding accomplishments, dependability, and service.

The Lockport Women's Club awarded the following deserving students with scholarships: Mike Hagenbuch, Music Camp Scholarship; Pam Kappmeyer, Conservation Camp Scholarship; Curt Carroll, Art Camp Scholarship; Jamie LaTour, Music Camp Scholarship; and Bob Carr and Mary Jane Marco, the Women's Club Scholarships. The presentations were made by Mrs. Dailey, Mrs. Drake, Mrs. Anderson, and Mrs. Beavon.

The guest speakers listen intently as Jim Maloy gives his graduation address.

Final

The night of June third, nineteen hundred and sixty-three was both an end and a beginning. For the graduates, it was an end of twelve years of hard work; the beginning of a new era in their lives. Behind the Class of 1963 lay many attempts marked by both successes and failures. That night, robed in blue and white caps and gowns, they marched solemnly to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" and each was recalling his own memories of the days spent at Lockport High. As they move on into life, there will be many times when they will recall these same memories. However, they now have a new one to add to the other cherished ones, the memory of graduation - June third, nineteen hundred and sixty three.

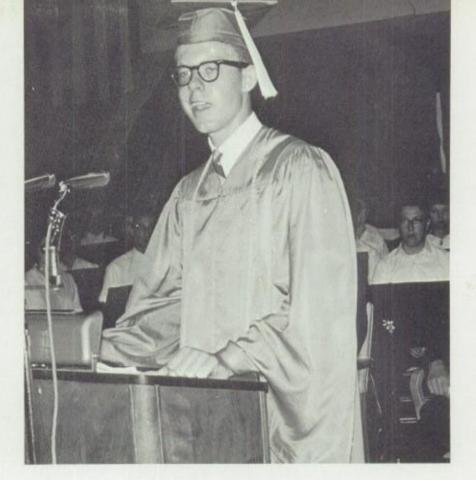

Bonnie Brockway proudly accepts her title of valedictorian.

"We are the net results of all our yesterdays." Peg Ennis states to the Senior Class of 1963.

Jim Maloy tells the class of 1963 to seriously think of their futures.

Hours

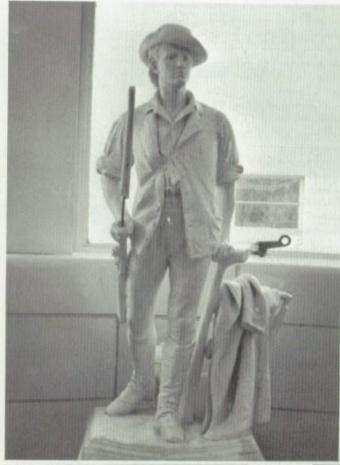

Rachel Grant and Bill Drost, the marshalls, guide the senior class to their places.

Andy Dystrup, senior class president, leads the audience in the Pledge of Allegience.

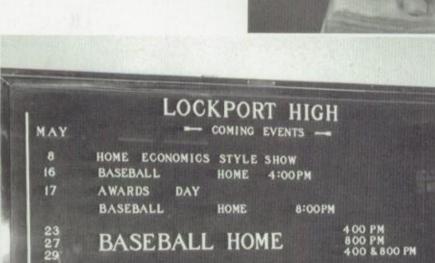

A Parting Revue . . . In parting we take a last, long look around us. We notice for perhaps the first time the little things that make Lockport Township High School individual. The little things that we will remember.

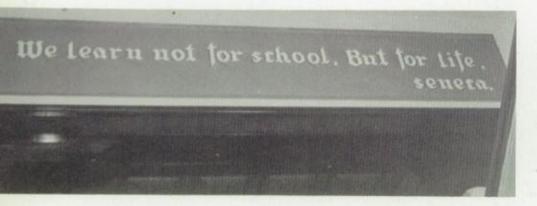

... the Trophy Room, with its carved oak and stained glass ...

... the news, usually late ...

... the endless stairs ...

... the words of Seneca ...

The flag, presiding over all ...

... the Minuteman ...

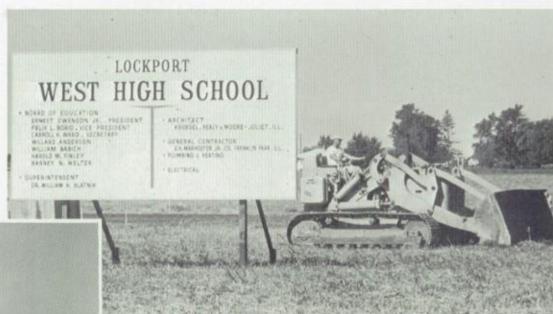

NO SCHOOL

. . . And Coming Attractions

Across the way we do a different kind of spying. Here we watch the progress of what is to become of the new West High. Its personality is in the making as it rises out of the farmland.

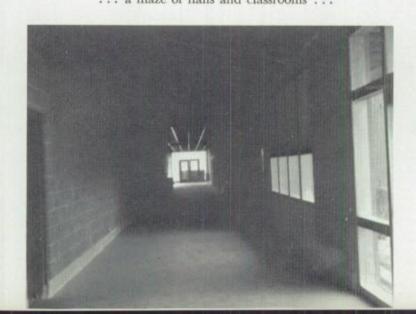

They cleared the land ...

... and started with steel ...

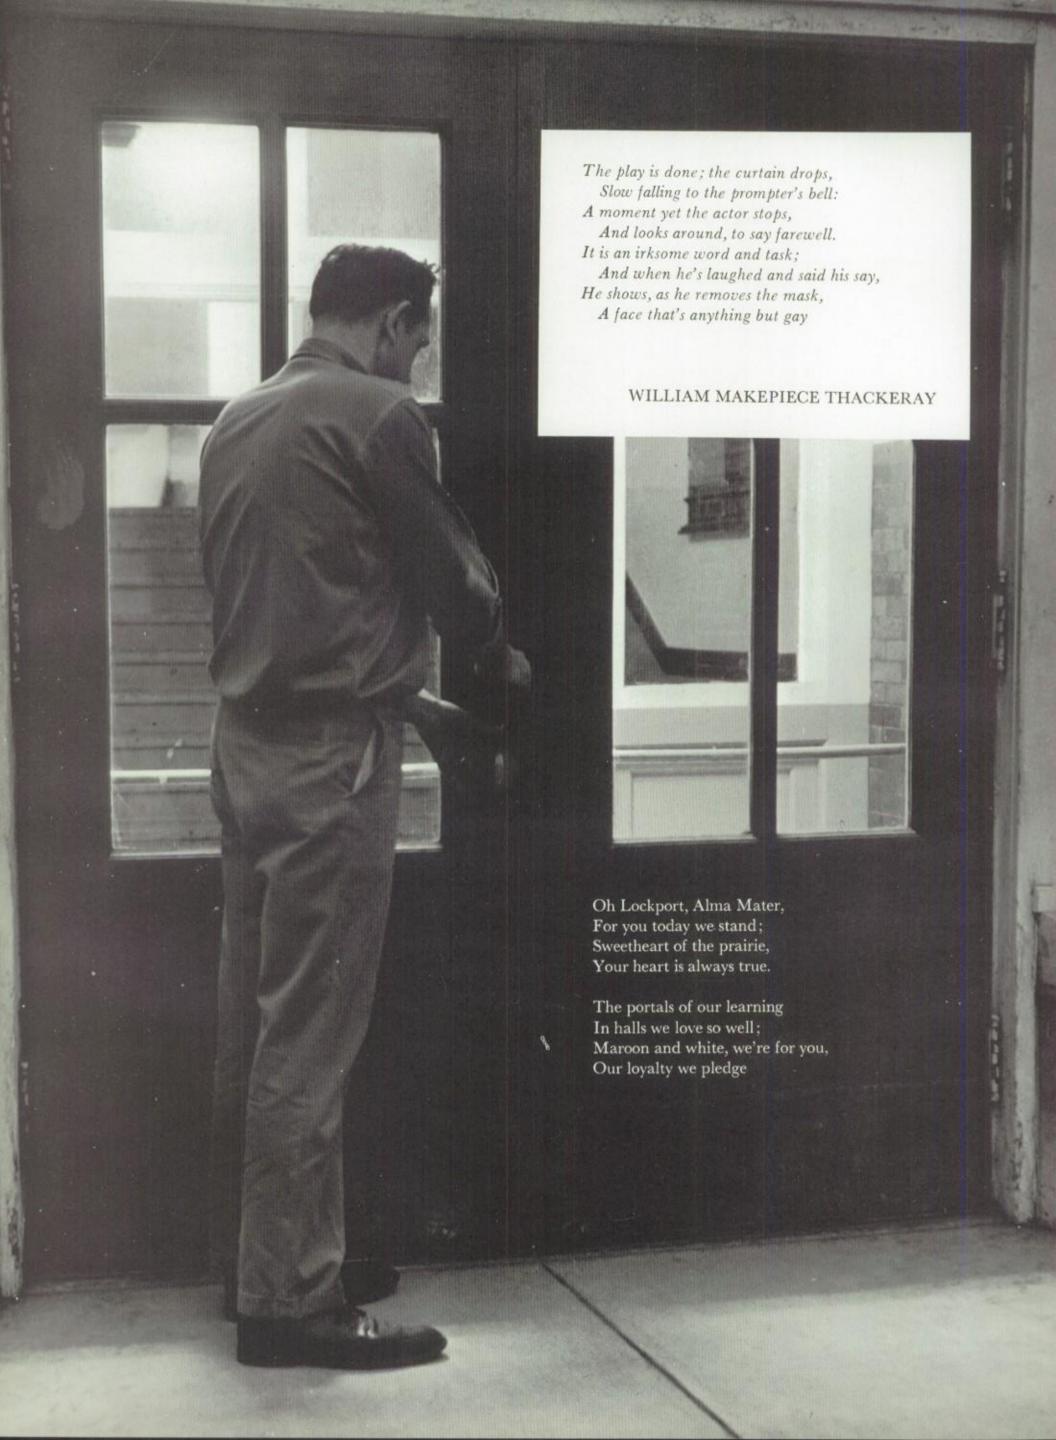

... as block and mortar gave it shape a maze of halls and classrooms ...

... slowly it grew ...

... all but ready — for us.
